

Personal details

Name: Daniele Biancardi
Address: Vicolo Calchi 13/e Pavia, Italy
E-mail: dani_bianca@hotmail.it
Cell phone: +39 3402719407
Nationality: Italian
Date of birth: 20/09/1987

Current position

September 2012 – present PhD student in Economics at Lombardy Advanced School of Economic Research (L.A.S.E.R.), Milan

Education

MSc in Economics and Social Sciences, Bocconi University, Milan, 2012
Bachelor in Economics and Social Sciences, Bocconi University, 2009
High School Diploma: Liceo classico Ugo Foscolo, Pavia, Italy, 2006

Work Experience

January – July 2012 Business Intelligence Intern, European Photovoltaic Industry Association, Brussels

Main tasks: Conducting research on topics related to photovoltaic energy industry, technology and markets, assisting in the preparation of industry and technology analysis and reports, assisting with the preparation of European projects reports.

February - May 2011 Intern at Centre for research on Energy and Environmental Economics and Policy (IEFE), Milan

Main task: Research assistant activity on the optimal incentive mechanisms to stimulate the development of renewable energy sources in the electricity sector with a particular focus on auctions.

Personal skills and competences

Italian: mother tongue

English: fluent, IELTS certificate with 7,5/9 overall (December 2010)

French: good

IT skills: ECDL (European Computer Driving Licence core), Excel: advanced user

Basic knowledge of data analysis softwares: Stata, Matlab, E-views,

Graduate record examination (GRE) with 800/800 in the quantitative reasoning section

Publications

“La riforma dei sussidi alle rinnovabili: di necessità virtù?”, Ecoscienza, 2/2011 (in Italian, with Annalisa D’Orazio)

“Global market outlook for photovoltaics until 2016” (with Gaetan Masson and Marie Latour),
May 2012

“Connecting the sun: solar photovoltaics on the road of large-scale grid integration” (with Gaetan Masson, Marie Latour, Manoel Rekinge, Ioannis Thomas Theologitis, Paolo Basso, Alexandre Roesch and Giorgia Concas), September 2012